Election of Officers This Afternoon—Paducah Man to Be on Board of Directors.

THE BUSINESS OF TODAY

London, Oct. 8.—The Paris papers this morning received reports that the battle of Mukden has begun. The reports have received some confirmation, but nothing official has been obtained. In the same connection, the Evening Star prints a dispatch from Tien Tsin which states that Field Marshal Uyama has ordered big guns moved to Liao Yang from Port Arthur.

CZAR TO SAY GOOD-BYE.

London, Oct. 8.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company, writes that the czar will visit Beval today to bid good-bye to the Baltic fleet, which starts at once for the far east.

ORDER NEW VESSELS.

Copenhagen, Oct. 8.—It is reported that Russia has ordered a Danish firm to construct three warships for delivery after the Russo-Japanese war. The vessels will cost forty million kroner.

RUNNING BLOCKADE.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 8.—A special dispatch from Mukden, dated October 7 says there has been no change of importance in the general situation.

The blockade of Port Arthur appears not to have been so effective recently, as a number of messengers have slipped through. The latest advice stated the fortress has sufficient ammunition and provisions to enable the garrison to hold out nine months.

NAY, NAY, SAYS ENGLAND.

London, Oct. 8.—Replies to the letter from the International Arbitration and Peace association, suggested that the time is at hand when His Majesty's ministers, in concert with other powers, can, with good hope of success, appeal to Russia and Japan to suspend the conflict in the far east, Foreign Minister Lansdowne writes as follows: "Neither of the belligerents having expressed any desire for mediation on the part of other powers, His Majesty's government does not consider that it could with advantage take such action as is suggested by your committee."

BRITISH SHIP CAPTURED.

London, Oct. 8.—Lloyd's New Chwang correspondent confirms the report from Shanghai that the British steamer Sishan, from Hong Kong for New Chwang, was captured by Admiral Togo's fleet, and writes that the Sishan arrived at New Chwang with the Japanese in command. The Japanese seized the vessel yesterday off Port Arthur. It is presumed she intended to run the blockade to Port Arthur with a cargo of cattle, flour, rice and general stores for the besieged garrison.

CAPTURED MERCHANTMEN.

Rome, Oct. 8.—The newspaper Gennale Di Roma reports that Admiral Kam-Vibolovsk, captured several Russian merchantmen.

HAVE TO SHOW HIM.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 8.—The local councils petitioned Prince Mirsky, minister of the interior, to take proceedings against the sugar and oil trusts. The prince declined, saying that he was convinced that they were acting legally.

REV. DOBBS

FORMER PADUCAH PASTOR PASSED THROUGH TODAY.

Rev. Gilbert Dobbs, of New Orleans formerly pastor of the First Baptist church here, passed through the city today at noon en route to Henderson on a several days visit. After visiting in Henderson he will visit in St. Louis and then return home. Rev. Dobbs is well known here and would easily be recognized by his acquaintances as he has not changed a particle.

REGIE CONTRACT

Big Deal Will be Made for Italian Government Soon.

The Head Agents Left at Noon Today After Conferring With Tobacco Men.

W. G. Dunnington, of Virginia, and E. R. Tandy, of Clarksville, Tenn., left today after conferring here with tobacco men of the district relative to the Italian government contract. Every year the Italian government purchases a vast amount of tobacco 8,000,000 pounds being bought the past season.

Mr. Joseph Ferigo, of New York, is the Italian Commissioner in the United States, and lets the contract every year, and Mr. Dunnington has it now. Mr. Dunnington then sublets it, which was his object in coming to Paducah last Thursday.

There has been no Regie agent in Paducah for the past year or two, and will be none this time. It will not be made public for several days yet who will get the contracts in this district, but it is likely that Fields Bros. will get the one for Fulton, R. Down & Co., for Murray, Lewis & Whitnell for Martin, Tenn.

The question of appointing organizers in different parts of the country was brought up. This is the only matter acted on which was not regularly drawn by resolution. Delegates Shortridge, Grafton and Simpson all made speeches favoring the move and it was decided to appoint such officers. Mr. G. W. Knotter was then appointed organizer for South Chicago and vicinity.

A resolution relating to Sunday work was brought up and adopted. This was where union men were forced to work on Sunday. The convention voted to matter within the discretion of the union men. If the working meant the safety of property or life, to work, otherwise not to do so. It was stated that in a number of places the proprietors made the men work whether they wanted to or not.

The convention voted thanks to Mr. Charles Hayman, personally, for his hospitality. Mr. Hayman worked hard to make the delegates feel at home and did so.

This afternoon Friedman & Keiler will present each delegate with a souvenir of the convention and of Paducah. The firm will present the delegates with a bottle of Lao Brook Hill whiskey.

This afternoon the finishing touches are being made on the constitution and after this is done the election of officers will be held and a place of meeting selected.

The convention will likely remain in session no later than 5 o'clock and all members will leave tonight if possible.

This has been a very successful meeting and the delegates are fond in their praise of Paducah and the hospitality of the residents and union men.

It is understood that a Paducah man will be selected on the executive board. The board is composed of several members and the members do the organizing where no organizer works. The membership pays a small salary and there are many applicants for positions. On account of the absence of a member from this part of the country, it is tipped that the Paducah man will be elected, partly through duty and partly in recognition of the hospitality extended members of the unions here.

A NEGRO SUSPECT WANTED FOR CRIME

Charles Downer is Being Held for Greenville Officers.

Was Taken Into Custody Yesterday By Officer Hurley at Union Depot.

TO GO BACK AT ONCE

Charles Downer, colored, is in the city prison charged with murder. He and a negro named Will Penn had been loitering about the railroad yards for several days, and yesterday afternoon Officer Aaron Hurley arrested them on suspicion.

The railroad detectives heard that a negro named Downer was wanted in Greenville, Ky., for murder, and one of the negroes answered the description, so the police telephoned last night to Greenville to know if Charles Downer was wanted.

Thus morning Chief Collins received a telegram from Sheriff W. D. Blackwell, of Greenville, saying that Downer was wanted there for murder, and if under arrest to hold him.

Downer is well known to Special Agent Dineen, of the I. C., and told Detective Dineen today that he shot a negro girl at Greenville, but did not know she died.

This established his identity, and Sheriff Blackwell was at once telegraphed that his man was in jail here.

It is likely that a good case will be made out against Downer, who is alleged to have shot the woman without provocation.

Paul, his partner, is said to be wanted for stealing a ring at Greenville, and is being held to await an investigation.

Downer proved to be a brother of Ben Downer, the negro who near Kevil, Ballard county, shot at English W. O. Birch, on the Cairo train, a few months ago and was sent to the penitentiary for Wickett.

He says the name of the woman he shot at Greenville was Aggie Bougan, and claims that she threw a brick at him. He did not seem to be uneasy over the affair.

Officer Asaro Horley, who made the arrest and worked up the case, left at noon with his prisoner for Greenville.

Smith died, and on hearing of his death Mrs. Smith confessed the plot.

Castell then weakened and admitted giving the shot. When the indictment was returned neither asked for delay in trial.

Castell was sentenced to death and Mrs. Smith to 99 years in the penitentiary.

Smith was 40 years of age. Mrs. Smith is 20. She admits that her infatuation for Castell, who is only 26, began last winter. The plot to kill Smith was made before the trio moved here from Arkansas last April.

THEATRICAL NOTES

Howard-Dorset company all next week at The "Kentucky."

HOWARD-DORSET COMPANY. The presence of bills on the boards announcing the arrival of the popular Howard-Dorset repertory and vaudeville company is always received with a well come by their many friends and admirers at Paducah. This company has been firmly established among local many other pieces equally as well known. Opening night ladies will be admitted free under the usual conditions. Between each and every act, will be interspersed specialties consisting of Smith and Arado in their singing and dancing turn, and the marvelous De Vans in their trick dog acrobatic act. The story of the "Two Orphans" is too well known to the majority of theatregoers, but a short synopsis of the play tention and respect, not merely for an attractive personality, but also on account of an incensing ability to vitalize and individualize a character. Mr. Howard it may be said is always at his best and humor seems to flow from him as though he would not be natural if he was not funny. Seats have been selling rapidly, and all those desiring to take advantage of the ladies' free offering should secure their seats at once for they will not last long, this popular company being the attraction.

The scenery which Charles B. Hanford uses in "Don Caesar De Bazu," which will be given at The Kentucky Theatre on Monday, Oct. 17th, is strictly in line with the pretensions he has established for elegance of stage garniture. Mr. Hanford makes the distinction between legitimate dramatic embellishment and mere gaudy circus frippery. The hint which Ponitius gives to Laertes, "Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy, but not expressed in fancy; rich not gaudy," applies to the mounting of plays as well as to personal adornment. Mr. Hanford has striven (and public opinion says, with success) to reproduce the elegance of the times in which the scenes of his plays are laid. The architecture, the landscape gardening, have all been faithfully studied and reproduced with the sympathetic enthusiasm which the artist feels when he knows that he has a subject worthy of his highest skill may be of interest to those that have never seen the drama. In the part of Louise, "The Blind Girl," Miss Flora Dorset has an ample opportunity to show her ability as an emotional actress. She is one of the many players who prefer stock work and the results of the performance is shown by her progress. She has grown rapidly to that artistic stature which immediately commands notice.

Great as Mr. Hanford's personal popularity is, he has never permitted it to stand as an apology for deficiencies in the mechanical details of his productions. The costuming he displays represents a small fortune in silks and satins and it has been his pride to present to every city he visits a strictly metropolitan production. Mr. Hanford's company, too, has been selected with so much care that there is no danger of their being overwhelmed by the magnificence of their surroundings. Miss Marie Drofnash his leading woman, has won golden opinions for her excellent work the past three seasons.

GREAT THAN CREATORE. The more announcement that arrangements have been made for two concerts in this city on Oct. the 22nd, by the famous Ellery Royal Italian Band, under the leadership of Francesco Ferullo, a young man who is far greater than Creatore, is sufficient to arouse the amiable-loving people of the community to a frenzy of enthusiasm and delight. The band consists of fifty Italian artists and the music produced by them is of an almost hypnotic character, and the audience remains actually spell bound in the intensity of the attention which it gives to the players and to the wonderfull young leader, Ferullo. Those who read the Milwaukee papers will have noted the confabulations and discussions regarding the eccentricities of the magnetic young leader whose intensely emotional directing has caused a world of comment among the audiences. Mr. Ellery, the founder of the great organization of musicians that bears his name organized the Banda Rossa, the greatest band in the world, some six years ago. He also introduced Creatore to the public, but in Signor Francesco Ferullo he has a conductor far greater than Creatore; in fact, greater than any other band leader who has ever appeared before the American public. Ferullo dresses in white, perhaps to make himself think he feels cool, but the seallet is in side, running through his veins like liquid fire and showing itself in the passionate glow of the music which his inspired baton calls forth from his eagerly responsive followers. This is magnificent singer has a voice of great range and power, and has made himself an immense favorite with the public. Signor Buzel combines in his truly wonderful voice both the qualities of lyric and dramatic power, and that the public appreciates such a rare combination is evidenced by the ovations which he has received on his every appearance.

theatregoers here, and it seems that no other company is quite as good as this clever organization. They will open a one-week engagement at the Kentucky beginning Monday, Oct. 10th. "A Noble Sacrifice" will open the week, and will be followed up with the following plays: "The Man From Mexico," "A Trip to Bombay," "The Boy Tramp," "Why Jones Left Home," "Two Orphans," and art, the true art of the most artistic people on earth. In the case of Ferullo it is intense emotion under the safe guidance of a particularly bright mind, the one combination that works harmoniously towards the making and perfecting of a grand artistic director. ## MAYOR DIDN'T GO

HIS WIFE'S ILLNESS PREVENTED HIS TAKING THE EASTERN TRIP.

Mayor D. A. Yeler did not leave last night for New York to join the Paludash party for the christening of the gunboat Paludash. He was not certain yesterday that he would go or stay, but decided before time for leaving not to make the trip.

Mrs. Yeler is ill, and he did not deem it advisable to leave her. Her illness is not serious, but she did not feel well enough to accompany him, and he did not desire to go unless she was entirely well.

Mayor Yeler's friends regret his decision not to go, as they feel sure he would have enjoyed the trip.

AN ATTRACTIVE PARTY.
Mrs. Thomas C. Leech's "Pompeian Card party" on Wednesday evening was a most charming affair and had a delightfully foreign element in its attractiveness. The invitations were on souvenir postals from Pompeii and the talles and prizes were all from that city, secured when Mrs. Leech was recently abroad.

The handsome Leech home on Fountain avenue is filled with many quaint and beautiful curios from abroad and was a garden of roses on this occasion. The reception hall was effectively banked in pink roses, and the parlors in white, while the red rose was used in graceful profusion in the dining room.

The first prize was won by Mrs. Albert Jackson Decker, Mrs. Robert Phillips and Mrs. L. Friedman cut for the lone hand prize and Mrs. Phillips was the winner. Mrs. William Bailey of Louisville, cut with the Misses McDonald of Dubuque for the visitor's prize and captured it. Mrs. Bailey, also, won the booby prize, a miniature mandolin in tortoise shell with "Pompeii" on it. The other three prizes were beautiful pictures, three different views of the house of Vettii in Pompeii.

An elaborate three-course luncheon was served during the afternoon. The eakes being ornamented with the letters "L" and "low-lions" lead. An orchestra stationed up stairs played during the luncheon. Mrs. Leech's guests were:

Mesdames Marmaduke Dillon, of New Orleans; William O. Bailey of Louisville; Edmonia Daniels of New York; Charles Kiger, Henry Hughes, Charles Moquot, L. T. Garrett, Cook Husband, W. H. McPherson, H. S. Wells, John W. Keller, L. Friedman, Milton Cope, Hal Corbett, Henry Bradley, Lawrence Dalton, A. J. Decker, Harris Rankin, John Campbell, Henry Thompson, Clarence Sherill, J. E. AN APPROACHING WEDDING.
On Sunday morning at the St. Francis de Sales Catholic church the wedding Mass of Miss Delta Willett of this city and Mr. Martin L. Orange of Princeton, Ky., will be announced.

The wedding will take place on Tuesday morning, October 25, at 8 o'clock, at the Catholic parsonage and will be a very quiet affair, only the intimate friends of the couple being present. The Rev. Father H. W. Jansen will perform the ceremony and the attendants will be Miss Henrietta Willett, a sister of the bride, and Mr. James Orange, brother of the groom. The bride will wear a white muslin over silk and her going away gown is a tan and brown tailor suit. After the ceremony the couple will leave for St. Louis on a brief trip.

Miss Willett is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Willett of Dubuque, and is an attractive and popular young lady as well as a talented musician.

Mr. Orange is a traveling salesman for the Kemper Woolwine company of Nashville, Tenn., and is a rising young business man and popular socialite.

This is the first announcement of the wedding and the many friends of the couple will give them congratulations and good wishes.

LUNCHEON TO VISITORS.

Mrs. Louis M. Rieke gave a beautiful luncheon of nine courses with fourteen covers on Thursday, with Miss Mary McDonald and Miss Martha McDonald of Dubuque, Iowa, and Mrs. William O. Bailey as guests of honor. The table was a symphony in white and green, the centerpiece extended lengthwise with a tall silver vase of white carnations rising from a bed of ferns, and white candles and shades at each end. The white and green motif was carried throughout with charming effect. The lace being white balls in green baskets and the mints in the form of white carnations. Each course was perfect in its service and appointment.

After the luncheon coffee was served in the attractive library. Mrs. Rieke's guests were: Mesdames W. O. Bailey of Louisville; A. R. Meyers, T. C. Leech, E. M. Post, Alexander Kirkland, James Rudy, John Campbell, Charles Wheeler, Misses Mary McDonald of Dubuque; Martha McDonald of Dubuque; Emma Reed, Claribel Rieke, Carrie Rieke.

PARTY TO MISS STEWART.

Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Eubanks gave a very delightful "Evening with the Authors" at their home on Broadway Monday night in compliment to Miss Anna Bird Stewart of Cincinnati, who has accepted the chair of English literature in the Paducah High school. The literary idea was cleverly emphasized throughout and the gossipping was very spirited. The prizes were books and were captured by Miss Ada Brazelton and Mr. Wilbur May. Miss Brazelton presented her prize to Miss Stewart, the guest of honor. Those present were:

Misses Marietta Strett of Dixon, Ill.; Anna Bird Stewart, Ada Brazelton, Emma Morgan, Madge Grigsby, Mary Mohan, Alice Mohan, Helen Allcott, Ora Leigh, Hetty Warren, Bruce Warren, Marjorie Bagley, Prof. E. G. Payne, Alexander Sullivan, F. B. May, Drs. H. M. Childress, S. B. Fonge, J. C. Freedland, Messrs. Frank Burns, Wilbur May.

LITERARY OPENING RECEPTION.

An eventful occasion for Paducah was the opening of the Carnegie library on Tuesday evening. A public reception was held and the building was thronged throughout the hours, evincing the great interest felt in the work. Mayor Yeler, President Bagley, Mrs. Louis Rieke, Mrs. A. R. Meyers, Messrs. Wallace, Wellle and Savage of the board of trustees; Miss Bayham, Librarian, and Miss Corlett, assistant, did the honors most graciously. An attractive musical program, and able address by Miss Katherine Sharpe of Champaign, Ill., were pleasant features of the evening.

The arrangement of the library, the books and every detail were much complimented.

THE SOCIAL CALENDAR.

The week in society has been especially gay for so early in the season. The presence of some very charming and popular visitors in the city has caused the more than usual pleasure. The entertaining has been varied, and some of it goes unrecorded because of its alleged "informality," but all have been pretty tributes to the guests honored.

The calendar for the coming week will be well filled also. Some notable entertaining will be done to home visitors; and the coming state convention of the Daughters of the Confederacy will bring much of a social nature in its train.

Mrs. Bennett is the only real daughter in this state and received quite an ovation in Louisville. There is some talk of naming the local chapter in her honor and it would be quite a pretty compliment.

AFTERNOON MUSICALE.

Miss Claribel Rieke and Miss Carrie Rieke gave a very delightful musicale on Tuesday afternoon at their home on Kentucky avenue in honor of their charming guests Miss Martha McDonald and Miss Mary McDonald of Dubuque, Iowa, and Mrs. William O. Bailey, of Louisville. The classical program rendered by Prof. Harry Gilbert, recently returned from studying in Berlin, gave much pleasure.

Salads and ices were served, a pretty feature being that each ice was molded to represent some musical instrument. A number of guests were present.

UNIQUE PARTY.

Miss Bertie Sears of Tyler, above Mechanicsburg, entertained on Monday evening in honor of her 18th birthday. The occasion was unique as well as enjoyable and a large number of guests were present. The lawn of the Sears' place was brilliantly illuminated. The party made merry around a big camp fire and elaborate refreshments were served. The young hostess was remembered with many handsome presents.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

REPUBLICAN TICKET

For President
THEODORE ROOSEVELT, of New York.

For Vice-President,
CHARLES W. FAIRbanks, of Indiana.

For Congress,
JESSE C. SPEIGHT,
of Mayfield.

DAILY THOUGHT.

It is immoral to do clumsy that which we ought to do skillfully, to do carelessly that which ought to be done with conscientious patience, to be satisfied with ugliness when beauty is within reach.—Hamilton Wright Mabie.

THE WEATHER.

Fidy to night and Sunday. Cooler in west portion.

A STRONG MAN OF PEACE.

The president's action in the matter of arbitration comes somewhat unexpectedly to democrats. They grasped the idea that he was a strong man, some time ago, and immediately jumped to the conclusion that he was a terrible soldier, a military despot, who only waited the slenderest opportunity to embroil us with all the South American states and most of Europe. How this was to be done they did not exactly explain, but they evidently thought the world to be situated on a sort of volcano of warlike feeling, ready to burst out, whenever there was a crack in the crust. As a matter of fact, it would be hard to drag any of the European countries into a war: the business is too expensive; and it might be too expensive. To make war a cheap luxury as it was in medieval times would be far from desirable.

But it now becomes apparent that the whole world is anxious for peace, and that they are looking to this "terrible war lord" to help them get it. It is hard on the democrats. All their documents and cartoons and things arranged on the basis that the president is a sort of military monarch—ought to be labelled "Look and See the Wild Man from Oyster Bay He Eats 'em Alive!" And here come representatives of all the civilized nations addressing him as the Strong Man of Peace, who can help them as no one else can. Interesting sight—very. But it is hard on the democrats.

ROOSEVELT'S FAITH.

Some of the Democratic critics of Roosevelt's letter of acceptance say that he is egotistic in claiming that he and his associates in the government have done more for the country than the it it were to come into power. What they mistake for egotism is simply the faith of an honest, earnest man in the cause for which he stands. The keynote of his position is sounded clearly enough in his letter:

"The principles which we possess, those in which we believe with heart and soul and strength.

"The policies we have pursued are those which we earnestly hold are essential to the national welfare and repute."

In saying that he speaks for his associates, Hay, Root, Taft, Knox, Moody, and all the others with whom he has been working during the past three years. Everybody who has come in contact with him during that period knows the keen joy that he has experienced in his work—a joy that has sprung from the consciousness that he was carrying into practice the principles and ideas of government which he believes in with his whole heart and soul.

Could there be a more justifiable joy and pride than this? Roosevelt is an intense American. He believes in his country with every fiber of his being. He believes that certain principles and ideas carried out in its government will develop that country's power and glory and prosperity as nothing else can. He feels that the accomplishments of the past three years have demonstrated that his ideas are sound. What could be more natural, therefore, than that he should rejoice at the opportunity that he has had to serve his country and to advance it before the world?

Could there be a more laudable pride than this?

Can any fair-minded critic deny that the things over which Roosevelt rejoices are worthy and have less of high value to the country? Has not the level of administration in all branches of the government been raised? Has not the standard of efficient conduct been lifted? Did any other national administration achieve so much that advocates of good government have deserved as his administration has achieved?

Why, then, should he not rejoice and why should he not say, without affectation or equivocation or circumspection: These things we have done; we believe them to be good; we are proud of having been able to get them done; continue us in power and we will continue to do the same and as much more as we can?"

There are times in the career of every president when he cannot possibly borrow another person's backbone, and in view of that, it is just as well that he should form the habit of using his own.

Tom Taggart has figured out a clear majority in the electoral college for Judge Parker. It will be remembered that the democrats elected Mr. Bryan four years ago this month.

Judge Parker is said to be anxious to secure the favor of the Bryan democrats. He might send them a silver telegram.

Colonel Bryan declares that he loves peace. He can not expect, however, to find it in the democratic party.

WAS DELIRIOUS

BAR KEEPER CREATES SOME EXCITEMENT AMONG THE POLICE.

A telephone message to police headquarters last night stated that men with knives, pistols and other weapons were in the vicinity of Tenth and Illinois streets, trying to kill everybody. Lieutenant Harlan sent officers, but they found nothing.

Later the man ran up and seemed to be very indignant. He said the men were then trying to break in and kill him, and suddenly exclaimed, "Here they come now, send an officer. I don't want to have to kill anyone."

Before officers could be notified, however, the man's wife telephoned that he was sick and delirious, and only imagined that someone was at his house. He is a bartender in the neighborhood, and has been ill for several days.

INTERESTING FACTS.

For Nearly Every Man, Woman and Child.

A short time ago we published an article recommending to our readers the new discovery for the cure of Dyspepsia, called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and the claims then made regarding the wonderful curative properties of the remedy have been abundantly sustained by the facts. People who were cautious about trying new remedies advertised in the newspapers and were duly induced to try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets a trial were surprised and delighted at the results. In many cases a single package costing but 50 cents at any drug store made a complete cure and in every instance the most beneficial results were reported. From a hundred or more received we have space to publish only a few of the latest, but assure our readers we receive so many commendatory letters that we shall publish each week a fresh list of genuine, unselected testimonials and never publish the same one twice.

From James Yenneleider, La Crosse, Wis.: Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are doing me good than anything I ever tried and I was so pleased at results that I gave away several boxes to my friends who have also had the same benefits.

From Jacob Anthony, Port Murray, New Jersey: I have taken Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets with the best results. I had Dyspepsia for 6 years and had taken a great deal of medicine, but the Tablets seem to take right hold and I feel good. I am a farmer and like burner and I heartily recommend to everyone who has any trouble with his stomach to use these Tablets.

From Mrs. M. K. West, Preston, Minn.: I have received surprisingly good effects from using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I gave one-half of my last box to a friend who also suffered from indigestion and she had the same good results.

From Mrs. Agnes K. Balston, Cadillac, Mich.: I have been taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and I am very much better, and feel very grateful for the great benefit I have received in so short a time.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a certain cure for all forms of indigestion.

They are not claimed to be a cure-all, but are prepared for stomach trouble only, and physicians and druggists everywhere recommend them to all persons suffering from Nervous Dyspepsia, sour or acid stomach, heartburn, bloating or wind on stomach and similar disorders.

MAKING ROOM

OLD RECORD HOUSE AT SHOP YARD STORM DOWN.

This morning workmen began tearing away the old record house located at the south end of the scrap iron sheds in the local Illinois Central shop yards, and the entire end of the building, including the record room and two scrap rooms, will be converted into a tin and pipe fitting shop.

At present the pipe fitting shops are located in the west end of the blacksmith shop, but will have to be moved to make room for the new steam hammer being installed. This will throw the tin and pipe departments together and will facilitate both departments.

The work will be completed in a few days and the building arranged for the shop to move in. At first the old tenement building new shop but decided that the converting of the record rooms and a portion of the scrap dump rooms would be better.

It was due solely to Mr. Wheeler's efforts that the gunboat was named "The Paducah," and the people of Paducah give him due credit for it. They would be pleased could go up and assist in doing the honors for Kentucky and Paducah on the auspicious occasion.

ON THE KENTUCKY

THREE PADUCAH BOYS ON BIG BATTLESHIP—GOES TO SEA SOON.

Mr. T. E. Judd, of the local Illinois Central car shops, has received a letter from his son, Ben Judd, who is on the battleship Kentucky at New York, saying that on October 1st the ship got hurry orders for immediately going to sea, and that eleven days is required to cross the ocean. She took on 1,500 tons of coal and this will give an ordinary idea of the amount of coal consumed by battleships.

Mr. Judd stated that the letter read that two Paducah boys, named Cowell and Brown, the former who resided near the Dogwood factory on the North Side, and the latter who lived near Eleventh and Tennessee, have been assigned to the ship. This makes three Paducah boys on the ship.

PEANUT RAISING TO BE STARTED HERE

It is Found That Goobers Thrive Well in McCracken.

Experiments a Success—Superior Quality Will Yield $25 an Acre.

MANY ACRES TO BE PLANTED

If there is anything that will pay the farmers of McCracken county and West in Kentucky it is peanuts.

On display at Grace's cigar store, at 311 Broadway, is a bunch of goobers raised by the Southern Peanut company of this city, on the Eavall place, about a mile from the city, on the Broadway road. The production was 200 bushels per acre, and the quality is fine.

J. W. Scott, manager of the Southern Peanut company, was interviewed this morning by a Sun reporter and said the field was a great surprise to him. "They will pay the farmer better than tobacco or cotton," he said. The peanuts are better than any raised in the entire country.

"The big goober raising states are Virginia and Tennessee, but their nuts are no comparison to those raised in McCracken county this year. The quality is superior and the quantity per acre is much larger. They are superior to the Virginia and Tennessee goobers, and the color and filling is a great deal better."

He said that the nuts alone his company raised on the Eavall place would net $175 per acre and the hay would bring $40 an acre, making a total of $215 an acre. But one crop a year can be raised, but at this rate, and it is based on the present market price of goobers, there is not anything but wheat at $1 a bushel that will beat peanuts.

This year about 500 or 600 acres of peanuts were planted in Western Kentucky and they are in the counties of McCracken, Graves and Ballard.

Next year Mr. Scott expects hundreds of acres of peanuts to be planted. His company has furnished the seed for nearly every crop now growing in the three counties mentioned. It was no known until this year that goobers could be raised in the soil of this country successfully.

CANNOT GO

PROMER CONGRESSMAN C. K. WHEELER DECLINES THE CITY'S INVITATION.

Hon. Charles K. Wheeler, to whom the general council extended an invitation with full expenses to go to Morris Heights, N. Y., to the celebration of the gunboat Paducah, stated this morning that he could not go and regretted that his business was such that would not permit him to make the trip.

"I consider it a great compliment to receive such an invitation," Mr. Wheeler stated, "and I am sincerely sorry to have to decline it."

It was due solely to Mr. Wheeler's efforts that the gunboat was named "The Paducah," and the people of Paducah give him due credit for it. They would be pleased could go up and assist in doing the honors for Kentucky and Paducah on the auspicious occasion.

FOR GUNBOAT

THE CITIZENS SHOULD PURCHASE A SILVER SERVICE.

When the gunboat Paducah, to be launched Tuesday, is complete, which will not be for some little time yet, it is fitting that a silver service should be presented for her by the citizens of Paducah. This is proper and right, and is always done by the state, city or town for which naval vessels are named. A silver service would cost a few hundred dollars, but it can easily be purchased if the progressive citizens of Paducah do their duty, and it is believed they will.

Mr. Stanley DuBois, president of the Commercial Club, has headed the list with a subscription of $10, to create a fund for buying the silverware. Others should help get it started by also subscribing to the fund.

PARTY FOR THE FAIR.

Quite a crowd leaves tomorrow for St. Louis to attend the world's fair. Among them are Misses Katie and Eva Baker and Master Edwin Baker, Miss Mamie Dargel, Mr. Frank Dargel, Mr. Robert Chastain, and probably others. They expect to be gone a week or longer.

PADUCAH MAN

A telegram was received here last night from Evansville, Ind., announcing the death of P. R. Collins, a well known painter who formerly lived here.

Mr. Collins was a member of the Woodmen of the World and belonged to Jersey Camp of this city.

MR. W. W. BARNETT IS STILL MISSING FROM HIS HOME HERE.

Relatives of Mr. W. W. Barnett, the absent right man who disappeared a month ago, have heard nothing from him. He has been missing a month and a day, and not the slightest trace of him has been found since he left Paducah. NEWS OF THE RIVERS.

A new boat will be built to take the place of the burned Mayflower.

The Barrett was at Cairo Wednesday.

The Wabash river is still failing. The lower end of the Wabash has been cleared of snags.

It is the intention of those in authority to send the government snagging steamer up the Wabash this fall to remove the snags probably as far up the river as Mt. Carmel, and it is expected that it will come as soon as the water reaches a boating stage.

The little towboat Edna has been rebuilt at Natchez.

There is no sign of a rise in sight, and many think there will be none until next month. It would not require a very cold snap to freeze up the Ohio at its present stage.

The Cleveland Review says: When the supervising inspectors in charge of the various lake and river districts under jurisdiction of the United States steamboat inspection service meet in Washington next winter it is expected that they will recommend that a number of new laws be passed and many of the old ones amended.

With regard to passenger boats the local inspectors at various ports are absolutely powerless to use their judgment in issuing licenses. The deck space is measured and the number of passengers the craft shall be allowed to carry is governed accordingly notwithstanding other conditions, which in the judgment of the inspector, should control the allowance.

The Helen Blair burned at Davenport, Ia., last Sunday night. The Mayflower burned at Pittsburg at the same time. Next? There are always three of a kind.

The stern-wheeler steamer J. W. Thomas, running under charter to the Evansville trade, hit an obstruction near Blue river coming up Wednesday and sank. The accident is not a serious one and she will be raised and taken to Louisville. She had eighteen inches of water on her deck and was bulkheaded.

The river took a sudden tumble last night, falling over 5 inches. It is today 17 and falling. The weather is clear and pleasant.

The Henry Harley was late getting out from Cairo this morning, making some transfers from the "J. S." for Cairo.

The Tennessee is getting a good trip of passengers and freight for Tennessee river, and leaves at 6 p.m. today.

The Royal arrived this morning from Golconda and returns this afternoon.

The Charleston is due to arrive tonight or tomorrow from Tennessee river, and returns Tuesday.

None of the boats are now moving, owing to low water. It is said that the Tennessee river is the lowest in many years.

Dr. F. W. Mead, surgeon at the marine branch of the Mercy Hospital at Pittsburgh, and the pilots are disputing over the reception of patients at that institution. The doctor refuses to recognize a pilot's certificate as sufficient evidence that a man is entitled to free treatment in the marine branch of the hospital service.

Captain J. J. Goodwin went to Cairo today on business.

LOST HIS BALANCE

SMALL BOY, IN SHOOTING THE CHUTES, IS BADLY HURT.

Harry, the 5-year-old son of Mr. George Bonnard, foreman of the wood working shop of the local Illinois Central, fell from a plank he was playing with in his father's back yard yesterday afternoon and badly cut his face.

The little fellow was playing "shooting the chutes," having placed the board on top of the fence, the other end on the ground. He would climb up and slide down, but lost his balance and fell face downward. His nose was badly skinned and a deep gash cut in the left eye. The injuries are painful, but fortunately not serious.

The road curved quickly and lunched into a pine forest, where the day filtered to twilight and the hoofs fell noiselessly into a carpet of brown leaves. It was a pleasant way, full of mingled odors, all strangely pure and agreeable, where clamorous wood things piped to a musical silence.

"Is not all Virginia, after all, that one sees here, monstre?" she said slowly after a time. "Far to the West of us is a vast region, raw, full-veined and of scattered tenements. There are great mountain peaks and ravines, wastes waiting seed and fire, plateaus and woodlands where the musket and the ax are never silent. Deer run in the brake. Wolves race along the ridges. There strong men have lived and died and fought back the savages and cleared themselves homes. Their children have grown up untying like the granite in the mountain's heart, untrammelled like its torrents. And this life amid the silence has taught them a justice that may not be taught, a strength that knows neither fear nor favor. The region you see here, monstre, to this great waste I speak of is but the raveled edge."

"Here broad rivers run brashly with tide-water, and ships lie at the wharfs. They bring to our minor houses all of luxury and refinement which Virginia tobacco can buy. And here the planters for Virginia was first settled by gentlemen, amateur—choose to put on courtliness and dress in gold lace and make a bit of London for themselves on the edge of the wilderness.

"Just beyond those hills to the southward is WHEATLAND, the capital they have built. It has a college and a court. There the oxen are ever tilling, the horses are ever plowing, and there in its palace sits the royal governor His Majesty is pleased to put over his colonials, levying on their leaf and covering in their kickshaws."

"The Earl of Dummore?"

"Ay, my lord the earl. Think you he knows one with more of this Virginia than does the king, a thousand leagues away? He drinks no big wine and drives his white horses and battles his辯es, the representatives whom the people have elected. They must pleasure him or he dissolves them. The king has forgot that the Virginians are Englishmen and that Englishmen love freedom!"

"And Englishwomen, too," he said.

"We come to BILLY," she went on. "We wear no swords. All we can do is to hope and to wait."

"Little?" There was a thrill in the tone. "Little? You can call such a hope, such a feeling, small? You think it vainglory or weak? Ah, mademoiselle, know you what makes a lady adorable to a man's heart, what makes him worship her? It is that she inspires him that it is not to dress for her or bow or sing her little songs, but to tell, to struggle, to fight, to die maybe—something high like the stars. Man has a want for two things in cause to fight for first, and then—then in one, a perfect one, a loved face, to wait and smile on him when he has won."

"With this a man could do miracles. Ah, it could make of a poor nobody a king, an emperor! I, even I, mademoiselle, a stranger from another land, I could fight so well for these great things, for this Virginia of yours, if I—if I—" He paused. There was a tense moment.

Then the air filled itself with a long, still sigh, and on its train came a sudden snapping of dead boughs, an unjoined crackling report, and both looked up startled.

A strange faraway circumstance had had part in this. Indians had not been used to fell trees as did their white competitors, instead they cut deadlings into the bark and let nature be axmen. These trunks fell when dry rot had done its work, sometimes in storms, often when no wind stirred, crashing in a forested silence. A quarter century before perhaps a Mattington brave had thus girdled a great pine with his tomahawk, and it was this dead tree, its boughs now white as blanched wolf bones, which was now, after the time, leaning to its fall from the roadside.

A shriek burst from Anne's lips as she saw the toppling bulk through the window, and she started to her feet. Simultaneously came a howl of terror from Hushleigh and a leaping jerk from the horses as he tried to lash them to safety.

There was an instant when the huge bulk seemed to hang motionless in the air above them, an instant in which Anne frenziedly wrenched open the door and made as if to leap out. The same instant Arnold seized her, drag her back and threw himself and her against the rear wall of the clearing.

She struggled, but he forced her back and held her as the ground mass came to earth with a crash that rocked the ground.

Anne couched even in her ecstasy of fright of a sense of safety in his arms, felt the body of the coach crush like an eggshell. She had hidden her face on his breast and shut her eyes, waiting the end. The whole world was a splinter of glass, a rippling of bounding, a sickening jumble of thuds, through

J. W. Javaport, Wingo, Ky., writes, June 14, 1902: "I want to tell you I believe Ballard's Snow Liniment saved my life. I was under the treatment of two doctors, and they told me one of my lungs was entirely gone, and the other badly affected. I also had a lump in my side. I don't think that I could have lived over two months longer. I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Liniment. The first application gave me great relief; two fifty-cent bottles cured me sound and well. It is wonderful medicine and I recommend it to suffering humanity." 25c, 50c, $1.00.

WHERE WORK IS A REAL PLEASURE

Health, Recreation and Profit-Sharing of Employees.

The Boston Sunday Herald of September 20, contains the following interesting article:

In these days of strikes and lockouts, when it seems sometimes as if the whole country were in the midst of an industrial revolution, it is refreshing to turn to the consideration of another method of solution of the relations between the employer and employee, as successfully exemplified by Thomas G. Plant company at its great shoe factory in Boston.

Let it be clearly borne in mind that the chief cause of the present industrial conflicts is in the disappearance of that old friendly relationship between master and men, which existed when the owner lived near his factory and went in and out daily among his work people.

Today, in great industrial establishments, such a personal relation is, perhaps, no longer possible; but there is another way of showing that friendly consideration which makes for industrial peace and the Thomas G. Plant company has evidently studied the problem and splendidly mastered the solution.

It is only an elaboration of an old precept called the golden rule, but in point of fact it is sound business economics.

The "Queen Quality" shoe factory is not only the largest shoe factory in the world making women's fine shoes, but it is probably the most advanced and progressive in its methods.

Take, in a single feature, its profit-sharing, sick and death relief and saving fund department, which is a model of organization. It operates along the lines of encouraging the workman to higher efforts. He receives special considerations in proportion as he is frugal, industrious, neat and constant at his work. In the final division of profits, in promotions, in the matter of steady employment, and in all cases of discharge, preference is given to the most deserving members of this department. The "Book of Regulations" is a model of what such regulations should be, and is to be heartily commended to every employer of labor.

Take another instance. One of the most successful of the co-operative departments is the recreation department. The gymnasium is very complete. It is in charge of one of the best professional instructors in the country; there is also a woman instructor from the Boston Normal School of Gymnastics. The methods of class work are admirable. Sixty members can be drilled in evolutions on the floor at one time. Sixty bath are provided, controlled from one central point, with devices for graduation of temperature of the water. All have separate dressing rooms. Gymnasium suits are dried in a large furnace by the hot fresh air system. There are four or five different classes each evening. About one half of the 2,800 employees are members of the gymnasium.

The library and reading room is another feature. It is in charge of a regular attendant librarian. It is open at all times, and is a branch of the public library of the city of Boston.

The bowling alleys and billiard room for men, and the music, dance and recreation rooms for women, need not be specially described. They are very popular with the employees. There is a model lunch room, which supplies clean, healthful food at the actual cost of its preparation. The company provides for its operatives two beds at the Emerson hospital, and all cases requiring surgical attention are sent there, with no cost to the individual. It provides at the factory a couch and a woman attendant; any one taken sick on the premises is at once made comfortable. To begin with, the Thomas G. Plant company realized that it was good business policy to help the employee to health; that only working people of healthy mind and body do good work; and mind and body must play as well as work to be really vigorous. Hence the establishment of the gymnasium, recreation, lunch and reading rooms—devoting to the above a total floor area of 25,000 square feet—and a system of fresh air ventilation which changes the air throughout the building every 15 minutes; workrooms light and airy and a marvel of cleanliness.

These are only outlines of some features of the system in force at the "Queen Quality" shoe factory, but they reveal certain industrial probabilities which are worth considering. With improved conditions comes industrial peace. A workman who knows when he is well off prefers not to strike; an employer who is making money prefers to keep things going smoothly. This may be cold materialism, but it is common sense. Shoe factories have been notoriously the scenes of labor conflicts in the past; but the relations of the Thomas G. Plant company with its employees show that it is possible to have vastly improved conditions in the shoe factories of New England.

Lindo Murphy, "King of bootleggers," was released from jail yesterday afternoon, and is now free to "bootleg" some more. had friends left, or he couldn't have given a $1,000 bond. Somebody down in the local option regions must miss Lindo's merciful ministrations, and he has been bailed out. He has probably been arrested more than any other person in Kentucky for violation of the revenue laws. It is confidently expected that he will be back with Jaller Jones in a short time, as it is said of Lindo that as long as there is any whiskey to be had, he can't keep from selling it.

WON HIS CASE

JUDGE W. M. REED RECEIVES GOOD NEWS FROM CLINTON, K.Y.

J. Johnson, an insurance man for many years a resident of Paducah, but now of Clinton, Ky., yesterday afternoon got a judgment at Clinton, against the Provident Savings Life Insurance Company for $1,458 for alleged false arrest. Judge William Reed, of Paducah, was his attorney, and returned right before last after trying the case there. Johnson was at one time agent for the company but went with another company, and in his advertisement for business stated things for which the company is alleged to have had him indicted. After he was acquitted he sued for $2,000 damages, and at the first trial got a verdict for $1,200; but an appeal was taken and a new trial ordered. This yesterday resulted in a larger verdict than the first.
